Cole calls Telstar students 'idiots,' 'morons'; former cops 'gangsters'

But attorney says he was set up

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Speaking with a Bethel couple in his office late last month, Town Manager Scott Cole delivered a harsh assessment of two elements of the local community — its youth, and the young men and women who until recently policed its streets.

Cole did not know at the time that his comments were being tape recorded. His attorney now says they do not represent his true views, and that they were deliberately provoked by the couple, to further an agenda of their own.

When the woman in the couple complained some students at Telstar "can't get their point across without being vulgar," Cole agreed. "They're idiots," he replied, but he did not let it go at that: "Yeah, they're idiots. "God, they're all f-----g idiots down there."

Continuing on, he segued to the example of Bethel's recently fired police chief:

"You don't know the s--- I'm hearing about Tripp — I mean, just morons."

Asked by the couple about the events leading to Tripp's dismissal, Cole related his version of the events, which included Tripp and reserve officer Phil Taylor "sitting out there jerking off in the police station."

He then offered his vision of Bethel's police force, future and past:

"We're going to get a real chief, real officers, not these gangsters who worked for Tripp."

Comments 'provoked' Cole declined Wednesday to comment on the remarks, saying the matter had been

Wardens prepare to enforce new ATV rules

AP/CITIZEN STAFF

Local game wardens are gearing up to enforce a recently-enacted law governing the use of ATVs. The wardens will also be encouraging riders to join, or form, clubs.

The law, LD 1912, was passed by the Legislature and signed by the governor earlier this month. It is designed to put all-terrain vehicle users on the same trail to public acceptance that snowmobilers blazed a generation ago.

The Legislature enacted the bill to curb those who disrespect private property and damage environmentally sensitive areas. The bill was initiated in response to complaints from landowners.

"What we got passed this year were the things the landowners needed and wanted. They needed some protection and they needed some help in managing the problem user, and we've got a lot of that done," said Dan Mitchell, head of ATV Maine, which has nearly

Federal judge to address Gould Class of '04 at Saturday ceremony

By JOHN NESBITT

The Gould Academy Class of 2004 will receive diplomas Saturday during the school's 168th commencement exercises.

The Rev. Virginia S. Rickeman of the West Parish Congregational Church will give the invocation, and the keynote speaker will be Federal Judge William G. Young of the U.S. District Court, District of Massachusetts.

Valedictorian Quinn McAllister and student speaker Gabe Ohlson will also address their classmates prior to the awarding of honors and diplomas.

Young, a federal judge since 1985, is a native of Huntington, N.Y., and received both his undergraduate and law degree at Harvard University and Harvard Law School respectively.

He served as a captain in the U.S. Army from 1962 to 1964, and after finishing his military service began his career as a law clerk for the Hon. Raymond S. Wilkins, chief justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court. He went into private practice from 1968 to 1972.

He was then appointed as a special assistant attorney general for the state of Massachusetts, and served in that position from 1970 to 1972 before he became chief counsel to the governor of Massachusetts from 1972-1974.

Young was first appointed as a judge in 1978, when he became an associate justice in the Superior Court of Massachusetts.

He served in that position until 1985, when he was nominated by President Ronald Reagan to a new seat on the federal bench, where he continues to serve.

SAD44 budget hearing draws small turnout of selectmen, parents

By ALISON ALOISIO

Roughly a score of people, including selectmen from Woodstock, Greenwood and Andover, attended a public hearing Monday on the proposed $9.3 million SAD44 budget.

Woodstock selectmen Steve Bies, who opposes the 4.85 percent increase to the local share that would result if the budget is approved by voters, had encouraged municipal officials to go to the meeting.

District residents vote June 8 in a budget referendum. Bies said Monday if the budget is rejected, he would advocate the School Board then cut it to the point that the increase would fall between level funding and the board's proposed increase.

"Give us a break for one year," he said, noting the budget has increased annually for the past decade.

He said he thought the School Board had built this year's budget with students and staff in mind, but not taxpayers.

A 4.8 percent increase to a town library budget would not amount to a lot of money, he said, but the same increase to the much larger school budget "squeezes out the other things we can do in our towns."

He encouraged residents to vote down questions 3 and 4 on the ballot, which address additional local funding and the expenditure of all budget monies.

Children left behind? Supt. Dave Murphy said SAD44 will be receiving less state money than previously anticipated for next year. Significantly cutting back

Tripp ups damage claim

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Fired Bethel Police Chief Darren Tripp has increased the amount of damages he is seeking against the town and Town Manager Scott Cole.

In a suit filed a year ago in U.S. District Court Tripp sought up to $250,000 for emotional distress, damage to his reputation, loss of wages and attorney fees. That suit resulted from a 33-day suspension imposed by Cole in March of that year.

In February of this year, Tripp was fired by Cole, and earlier this month the damage figure he is seeking was raised to $500,000, based upon the firing.

Depositions in the suit are ongoing.

Land and grant questions to face Greenwood voters

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Accepting 84 acres of land that could serve as a lakeside park and recreation area is the lead-off article on the warrant for a June 14 special Town Meeting in Greenwood. But town voters will also have other matters to deal with, including authorizing the sale of two parcels of town-owned land.

The lots in question are in the Westside subdivision, located near Mt. Abram.

In 2000, the 23-lot subdivision was purchased at auction by David and Patricia Duguay of Byron.

To prepare for the eventual sale of house lots, the Duguays ran roads and utility lines into the property.

But they later discovered that two of the lots they thought they had purchased had been inadvertently left off the deed transferring the land to them.

Before the Duguays noticed the mistake, the town foreclosed on the lots for nonpayment of taxes by their previous owners.

The Duguays then approached the town and asked to be allowed to purchase the lots back.

Only one of the lots is a buildable house lot. The second is less than a quarter acre in size and is under easements to serve as a septic field for three nearby lots.

The Duguays offered to pay

Gangster rap

Nate Wight is a "gangster"?
Pat Moore, Mike Munzo and Heath McDonald are "gangsters"?
The children at Telstar — all of them — are "idiots," "morons"?
One can only imagine what the town manager really thinks of the rest of us.

For the record: The Citizen played no role in the making of the tape on which this week's story is based. We learned of the tape's existence only after the fact and initially had no interest in listening to it. But when the town manager's comments were described to us, we decided we would be remiss not to listen for ourselves, and for our readers.

What we heard is what you have read — The comments of a public official, speaking in an office paid for by, among others, the parents and grandparents of those "idiots" down the road; and drawing a very nice salary paid by, among others, the parents and grandparents of those "morons" down the road.

It might be time now for the present town manager to be down the road. —MRD

In conjunction with this year's Summer Solstice Festival (June 20), I wish to invite all my fellow artisans who make all or some of your livelihood from your art, craft, or handmade specialty to open your shops and studios to the public on Saturday, June 19.

Demonstrate your craft, offer tours of your studio and meet the public.

A special day announcing your studio is open to the public can be very rewarding and affords the public an opportunity to view your craft in the design and production stages.

For more information on participating and making this a successful "Open Studio Saturday," please drop by or give me a call at 824-6545. Remember — your work, your art, can only be appreciated if it is seen.

THEME OF ART SHOW IS RIVER FERRIES

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Bethel Historical Society, I would like to thank everyone who has donated items to the annual St. Never's Day sale. We have more "treasures" than ever this year, but if anyone wants to donate something more (no clothing please) in good condition, please leave it at the rear door of the O'Neil Robinson House. Since the portion of the Robinson House where previous sales have taken place has been removed, the sale this year will be held on my lawn (weather permitting) or on the side porch and barn if inclement. I am located at 18 Broad Street (across from the Bethel Inn driveway) at the corner of Mason and Broad streets. The sale will be this Saturday, May 29, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Also, the Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show featuring the work of SAD44 elementary art students will be held at the Dr. Moses Mason House Exhibit Hall, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. For the past few years, it was at two of the galleries in the O'Neil Robinson House, but this time it will return to the space where the show began in 1980. This year's theme is "River Ferries on the Androscoggin." Prizes will be given in three divisions to the students, who in the judges' opinion most completely relate to this year's theme. To be considered, all work must be at the Dr. Moses Mason House by Friday, May 28, at 3 p.m.

referred to his attorney, Dana Hanley of South Paris.

Asked by The Citizen about the "idiots" comment, Hanley said: "Mr. Cole does not hold that viewpoint."

Cole's statements, Hanley said, were provoked by the couple, "who were bent on using fraud by coming into his office and deceptively taping him."

The couple was in the office ostensibly to seek Cole's help, Hanley noted.

"You can elicit comments from people if you approach under the guise of being their friend," Hanley said.

The couple, he said, "had an agenda, and a vendetta."

"It's a sad day," Hanley said, "when a public official is going to have to pat down everyone who comes into their office to see if they have a tape recorder."

Budget

the proposed increase means the district "would lose basic things," Murphy said.

The board has already cut several staff positions and an existing alternative education program from the budget, he said, and has postponed capital improvement projects and bus purchases.

Other items totaling $158,000 were added to the budget. They are intended to address requirements from the new federal No Child Left Behind Act, as well as existing state requirements, which stipulate districts take measures to improve student performance on testing.

If the district doesn't conform to the requirements, Murphy said, SAD44 could lose state and federal funding.

"So much has changed with the No Child Left Behind Act," he said. "If we don't meet the requirements of the mandated programs, we won't be reimbursed to (the expected) level because we're not playing by the rules," he said.

That could mean trouble in a few years, he said, because high school diplomas will be awarded based on the mandated performance levels.

"Please don't deal with this budget in isolation," said Murphy. He said pressure should be put on the state to fund schools at the 55 percent level required by law. Funding has fallen far below that level for years, he said.

Woodstock resident Arla

Patch spoke in support of the budget. "It sounds like if we don't participate at this level (of proposed local funding) we'll get into much bigger problems in years to come," she said.

Bies said that although he does not support the local increase, he does favor increasing school funding at the state level.

Other municipal officials in attendance did not comment on the budget. But many stayed for a time after the hearing to ask questions individually.

Briefly

Junk car program a success

GREENWOOD — A program to help property owners get rid of junk cars had netted 45 cars by late last week, according to selectman Ivan Roberts. During May and June, property owners can call Gaudreau's Repair in Bethel and have the cars removed for free. The service used to come with a charge, but a recent increase in the price paid for scrap metal made it feasible to do it for free, Roberts said. The only problem with the removal process so far has been that many of the junkers had a lot of trash in them, he said.

Voters OK Planning Board

GILEAD — About two dozen residents voted at a special Town Meeting Saturday to establish a Planning Board. A similar board had been abolished 10 years ago because of disagreements among its members, according to town officials. Since then, selectmen have handled development applications. But with a recent increase in development, some officials felt it would be advisable to create a new board. The proposal passed easily Saturday, according to Beverly Corriveau, Gilead's administrative assistant. Six people have submitted their names so far for consideration for appointment to the board, which will have five members and two alternates. Corriveau said other names may be submitted until the next selectmen's meeting on June 9.

MLT gets grant for Frenchman's

BETHEL — The Mahoosuc Land Trust recently received a $5,000 grant from the Davis Conservation Foundation of Falmouth toward its $42,000 fundraising campaign for the acquisition of the 385-acre Frenchman's Hole property in Riley Township. The Frenchman's Hole property will be added to the Bureau of Public Lands Mahoosuc Unit, which is available to the public for multiple uses. The Frenchman's Hole acquisition will help protect public access to a series of pools on the Bull Branch and simultaneously protect the Sunday River Watershed from additional impacts, according to Marcel Polak of MLT. The forested land will provide an additional buffer to the Mahoosuc Unit, through which the Appalachian Trail runs. The trust still has to raise an additional $8,000 to complete the fundraising. "Donations of all sizes are important and encouraged," said Polak. "When this project is completed, the trust will focus its attention on other lands in the Bethel area with significant ecological, recreational, and scenic values."

Swim lesson information

BETHEL — The Town of Bethel swim program will begin Tuesday, June 22, and end Friday, July 9. Any child 5 years old or entering kindergarten in the fall is eligible for levels I through VII. Children age 4 and under are eligible for the Infant/Toddler Program, which must be taken with an adult. Registration forms are available at the Town Office. Students will be placed according to ability and age level. The schedule will be published in the June 17 issue of The Citizen. For more information, call 824-3152, ext. 301.

New grocery store planned

PARIS — A Save-A-Lot grocery store is expected to open within the next two months in the former Bob's Discount building at the Cornwell Shopping Plaza on Main Street. Store owner John Hammontree also owns a similar store in Portland. He has signed a 10-year lease for the Paris space, and plans to renovate the inside. He will have independent ownership with the national store chain. Hammontree obtained a $100,000 startup loan through Western Maine Financing of EnterpriseMaine.

Unemployment down

AUGUSTA — Maine's unemployment rate dropped by 0.6 percentage point in April to 4.3 percent, the Baldacci administration said Friday. State Labor Commissioner Laura Fortman said the jobless figure dropped from 4.9 percent in March as a result of an increase in the number of self-employed, as well as slight employment gains in professional and business services and manufacturing. The unemployment figures take into account seasonal fluctuations in the labor market. Maine's April unemployment rate was 1.3 percentage point lower than the comparable national rate for the month, 5.6 percent. "It is encouraging to see the unemployment rate fall to 4.3 percent in April," said Fortman. "However, it will take more than one month's data to indicate a significant trend in labor market conditions." Other New England states reporting their seasonally adjusted unemployment rates for April include Vermont, 3.6 percent; New Hampshire, 3.9 percent; Connecticut, 4.5 percent, and Massachusetts, 4.8 percent.

Watch for giant snails

AUGUSTA — The public is being asked to assist the Dept. of Agriculture, Food and Rural Resources in the hunt for giant African land snails (GALS) after recent seizures of the pest in Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and Ohio pet stores, exotic animal dealers and schools. The snails are a threat to human health and a potentially serious plant pest. "We want to determine whether these snails are already in Maine and if so, collect them as quickly as possible," Commissioner Robert Spear said. "The discoveries in other states are of concern because the snails were being used at schools as part of science projects. Many of the schools received the snails as donations and were unaware of the potential threat." Another mode of entry of the snail into the state is exotic pet stores. Schools, education programs, pet shops or members of the public that might have these snails are asked to contact the Division of Plant Industry (287-3891) or the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (945-0479). Though there are currently no known GALS in Maine, the potential for damage from this pest is high. Scientists consider the GALS to be one of the most damaging snails in the world because it is known to consume at least 500 different types of plants, including most varieties of beans, peas, cucumbers, and melons. There are also public health concerns, because the snails are known to carry a parasite that can cause serious diseases in humans, including a rare type of meningitis. The diseases can be transferred to humans by eating raw, undercooked infected snail meat or vegetables contaminated by the snails. Humans can also be infected by handling live GALS if the snails' secretions contact mucous membranes in the eyes, nose or mouth. For questions concerning the health risks, the public can call the Bureau of Health (800-821-5821). The GALS are among the largest land snails in the world, growing up to 8 inches in length and 4.5 inches in diameter.

doubled in size in a year to nearly 10,000 members.

Organized ATV users worked with environmentalists, law enforcement officials, landowners and state officials to develop the rules.

The bill prohibits riding on private property without landowner permission, unless it is on a trail marked for ATV use. Written permission is needed to drive on farmlands and orchards. Fines for violating that and several other new regulations will range from $100 to $500.

ATVs are barred outright from environmentally sensitive places like salt marshes and sand dunes, and from cemeteries. Also off-limits are rivers, brooks and streams when the ground is not frozen.

ATVs must meet noise standards, and may not be equipped with snorkel kits that enable them to be used in deep water.

In addition, riders ages 9 through 15 will have to complete approved training courses — with a parent or guardian present — if they intend to operate an ATV off their properties.

Those who lose state IFW-issued licenses for ATV violations can get them back only after completing approved outdoors ethics courses.

IFW's Andrea Erskine said one of the major pieces of the new law will prohibit the use of ATVs anywhere during mud season, except on trails marked as passable, as a way to prevent cutting ruts and gouges in land.

Another major thrust of the law is to encourage the growth of ATV clubs through a panel that will award grants for trail construction and maintenance. Money will also be earmarked for intensified enforcement in areas where ATVs continue to run wild.

The money will come from the new and increased fines. Before the latest laws were passed, Maine law required ATV operators as well as riders who are under 18 to wear safety helmets.

A positive approach
In the Bethel area, game warden Steve Allarie said encouraging riders to join and/or form clubs will be a key part of his and other wardens' efforts.

"We will go out of our way to help form clubs," he said.

Allarie said while wardens have already familiarized themselves with the new law, they will receive formal training on it as well. After that, he said, wardens will work with state and local police in enforcing the regulations and encouraging responsible use of the machines.

An accomplished scholar, Young has held the position of lecturer in law at Boston College Law School for the past 36 years. He has held the same position at Boston University Law School for 25 years, and he also lectured at Harvard Law School from 1979-1990.

Valedictorian Quinn McAllister is the son of Scott and Sharon McAllister of Bethel. He is a member of the National Honor Society and a student proctor, and he has attended Gould for five years, including an eighth grade winter term during which he pursued competitive alpine skiing.

He has been active as a peer tutor in the Math Center and a member of the varsity baseball, basketball, and soccer teams. He plans a career in engineering and will attend Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in the fall.

Gabe Ohlson has been chosen by his classmates to speak at commencement prior to the awarding of diplomas. Ohlson, who has attended Gould for the past four years, is a student proctor, an accomplished freestyle skier, and has been active on the men's varsity lacrosse team.

He is an avid potter, and did an independent study in the Gould Communications office during his senior year. He is the son of Marc and Jill Ohlson of Conway, N.H. He will attend Montana State University in the fall.

Baccalaureate

On Friday afternoon, the Rev. Rickeman will deliver the invocation at Gould's traditional baccalaureate ceremonies in the West Parish Congregational Church.

Senior Katie Reed will present the class banner, and the graduating class has chosen classmate Charlie Edwards and faculty member Peter Southam to address them.

Edwards, a four-year student at Gould, is the son of Martha and Clark Edwards of Montague, Mass. He is a head proctor and a member of the National Honor Society.

He was the captain of the varsity soccer and lacrosse teams in his senior year. He plans to attend either the University of Massachusetts or the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill in the fall.

Southam has taught biology at Gould for the past three years. He is co-leader of the Farm and Forest Program and coach of the mountain biking team. He is an accomplished musician, and a member of the Mahosuc Community Band.

On Friday evening, the Gould Academy Music Department, under the direction of James McLaughlin III, will present its annual spring concert in Bingham Auditorium. The concert, which begins at 8 p.m., will feature both instrumental and vocal selections.

It is open to the public and there is no admission charge.

Greenwood

the town back taxes on the smaller lot and $4,000 for the buildable lot.

Other house lots in the subdivision are now selling in the $15,000 range, but the Duguays argued that $4,000 represented the value of the lot before they paid to bring in roads and utilities.

The selectmen are considering the Duguays' offer (which was later raised to $7,300), but town ordinances require that before the lots can be sold, they must be put out to bid.

Two articles on the warrant for the June 14 meeting ask voters to waive that requirement, freeing the selectmen to sell the lots if they reach a deal with the Duguays.

Grants

Voters will also be asked to authorize the town to accept three grants.

The first is a Community Development Block Grant for $65,000 that will be put toward the estimated $117,000 cost of rebuilding the Alder River dam.

This grant is not yet a sure thing, Whitman said, but the town has passed Phase I of the approval process and appears on track to successfully complete Phase II.

"It looks good for getting the grant," said Town Manager Carol Whitman, "but you never know until the end."

The second grant, from the Federal Emergency Management Agency, is for approximately $59,000.

The money would be used to upgrade and update the Fire Department's CASCADE breathing system, which is Greenwood's contribution in specialized equipment to the local mutual aid program.

To qualify for the grant, which has also not yet been approved, voters must agree to appropriate a 10-percent town match of $5,914.

The third grant, from the State Planning Office, is for $6,000, and requires a $2,000 local match.

At their annual Town Meeting, in March, voters agreed to raise $3,000 for implementing the town's Comprehensive Plan. The vote on June 14 will authorize spending the local-match amount.

Another article calls for raising the town mileage payment to 35 cents per mile. The rate is currently 30 cents per mile.

Land offered

Voters will also decide if they wish to purchase an 84-acre parcel of land, located across the Greenwood Road from South Pond.

Long-time resident Maggie Ring has offered the land to the town at the very low price of $200 an acre.

Ring said she hoped the town would preserve the land in its present state but develop parking and trails to make it more accessible for various forms of non-motorized recreation.

At $200 an acre, the full purchase price of the parcel would be $16,800, but the town has already been promised more than half that — $10,700 — in private contributions toward the purchase.

If voters approve the article, Whitman said, the balance of the purchase price would be taken from surplus.

The June 14 meeting will be held at 6 p.m. in the Town Office meeting room.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

Gayland ("Gink") Doonen is a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway.

Jill Angevine, daughter of George and Cheryl Angevine was tendered a bridal shower on Sunday, given by her maid of honor, Kristine Walker, at her parents' home. She will be married on June 12 to Kurt Sanborn of Bangor. She received many lovely gifts.

Brad and Dianne Smith of Chestnut Knoll have just returned from a trip to Florida to visit Frederick Smith of Dunnellon, Fla., and a trip to Grenada, West Indies, to work on their sailboat, "Lady Di." While in Grenada, "Lady Di" was sold to a couple from Wilmington, N.C. "Lady Di" was bought and launched in 1986 and has since then sailed 55,000 miles including three Atlantic crossings and the Transarc and ARC races and ten years in the Mediterranean, sailing as far as Antalya, Turkey.

Bob and I attended the first birthday party for our great-grandson, Daniel, son of Heath and Karolann Keniston of Norway. The party was held at the home of his grandparents, David and Jodi Keniston.

Laurie Young, granddaughter of Jane Young, is returning home after being in Ireland for some time.

On Thursday, Jane Young had a mama bear and two cubs in her backyard. The wild animals are taking over.

Melissa Walker, granddaughter of Virginia Walker, graduated from the University of Maine at Farmington this past week. She is the daughter of Aimee DesRoches of New Sharon.

Jane Young attended a grand opening on Saturday of a boutique called Chickberry in Sanford. Dori Young is the proprietor and is the daughter of the late Ted Young, formerly of Bethel.

On Sunday, a going-away party was held at the Congregational Church for Nancy Morris and Lois Kilroy of Vernon Street. They are moving to Auburn this Friday.

Amy Davis attended the Orchestra Concert at Oxford Hills High School. Owen Davis participated.

There will not be a Red Hat Ladies gathering this month, as the Memorial Day weekend is a busy one.

Hope Tibbetts is spending some time with her daughter, Dorene Vail in Norway.

Shelby McKnight, Bob's and my granddaughter, graduated on Saturday from Fordham University in the Bronx, with a master's degree in sciences and teaching education.

Doris Brown has had a large container left in her shed that doesn't belong to her. She wishes the owner would pick it up.

The Mahosuc Community Band Concert Monday evening was especially good. Ellen Whitney's trombone number, "Cool Blues for Trombone," was outstanding.

Oxford Hills Duplicate Bridge sponsored a Charity Bridge game to benefit Alzheimer Research. Winners for the session were: first, Marianne Avery and Janice Wolfe; second, Marta Clements and Nancy Farmer; third, Marilyn and Eric Sahlborg; fourth Dick Allen and Pete Cummings. Also winning points for the day were: Woodrow Mercier and Beverly Dolan along with Eleanor Griffin and Jim Dickens.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte
The drizzly, sodden, Sunday did not deter my Brunswick friends Barbara and Dawn Rusczyk from touring Joy Yarnell's garden. There is a totally different look to the site as spring progresses in this lovely spot. The marsh marigolds in full bright yellow bloom stand out boldly against the black rocks of the rippling brook. There are many varieties of hostas, big leaf and small in the early stages of development.

Primulas, anemones and white trillium pop up in unexpected places. The lilacs have not bloomed out yet, but they promise to be out in all their glory for Memorial Day.

The Ladies Aid Bake and Yard Sale has been moved from the Ladies Aid Building to Lucille Largesse's home on Route 26. It will be held on May 29 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The arduous task of moving all the sale articles was performed by Simonne Lavalley, Sue Angevine and Lucille Largesse. They will receive this week's "Atta Girl" for this very difficult task.

The reason for this move is a wedding that may take place on an island in the Lake. Rain or black flies may alter the planned ceremony and reception to the Upton Church, School House and the Ladies Aid Building. It should be a wonderful day regardless of the weather and those uninvited black flies and mosquitoes. We hope it will be a sunny day for the happy bride and groom.

Thank you to Bob and Donna Folsom for a delicious asparagus feed from their Upton garden.

Debbie Judkins and Lou Bernier have been spearheading a group to bring summer services to the Upton Church. They are in the process of obtaining a minister to assist at this time.

Three black wolves have been seen in various locations in Upton. The large, black German Shepherd that wandered in and out of doorways last winter has been adopted by a local resident. Both dog and man are happy with the arrangement.

The goose family has hatched five little goslings. Ginny and Buster Williamson spotted them out on the lake last week. The cold, damp weather will keep the babies under Mama's wing whenever necessary.

Several pileated woodpeckers have been heard and seen this week.

Roger Lavalley relates a wonderful story about a baby

fox. Ron Pelletier from New Hampshire found a blind baby fox in the woods in this area. The mother must have abandoned it. From what I hear it was cuddly as a puppy and enjoyed the affection given to it by falling asleep in Ron's arms. Since it is illegal to harbor a wild animal, it was turned over to the Fish and Game to be placed in a "rehab center" and will eventually end up in a game farm in safe custody.

The little bear that Cindy Scribner cared for during the big snowstorm last winter resides in a game farm somewhere in northern Maine. I am told.

Although the horrendous price of gasoline may keep you off the road, try to make it up to the Yard and Bake Sale. You may see that huge bull moose that lives in the wetlands across from the Largesse home. Speaking of moose, if you haven't seen the albino bull moose (stuffed of course) in the lobby of L.L. Cotes, it would make a worthwhile trip. Luc Cote says that it is the only albino bull moose known in the world.

The "Bird of the Week" is that old "Wet Hen" that you saw working in her garden

Sunday in the pouring rain Liquid Sunshine is a wonderful thing.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

Another Memorial Day is upon us. The official kick-off to the summer season even though summer doesn't actually begin until June 21st. Still, Memorial Day marks the beginning of camping, cookouts, beach trips, getting the garden in and a lot of other outdoor events.

It also seems to be an opportunity for an extended weekend. Blowout Sales events, Lawn and Garden Center sales and a few other big commercial promotions. I think, as a society, we have forgotten what Memorial Day represents and this year is a good time to be reminded that there is more to it than hot dogs and hamburgers on the grill.

We have lost nearly 800 of our military men and women in Iraq and a sizeable number in Afghanistan, so this may be a good time to revisit the origins of Memorial Day.

The history books tell us that Memorial Day was officially proclaimed on May 5, 1868 by General John Logan, national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, in his General Order No. 11 and was first observed on May 30, 1868, when flowers were placed on the graves of Union and Confederate soldiers at Arlington National Cemetery. However, where it all began is a matter of much dispute.

There are 24 communities in the United States that lay claim to being the birthplace of Memorial Day. In May of 1966, President Lyndon Johnson, on behalf of the United States Government sanctioned Waterloo, New York as the "official" birthplace of Memorial Day because that town's earliest observance in 1866 was considered to be so well planned and complete.

Some people from the other 23 communities still dispute that Waterloo merited the designation. The story I like best takes place two years before in 1864 in Boalsburg, Pennsylvania. Legend has it that on a warm summer day a young lady by the name of Emma Hunter, along with her friend, Sophie Keller, gathered some flowers and visited the cemetery where Emma's father was recently laid to rest. Dr. Reuben Hunter was a surgeon in the Union Army had died a short while before and the grieving Emma wanted to pay her respects.

There are 24 communities in the United States that lay claim to being the birthplace of Memorial Day.

While at the cemetery, Emma and Sophie encountered Mrs. Elizabeth Meyer, who was there to place flowers on the grave of her son Amos, who as a private in the ranks, had fallen on the last day of the Battle of Gettysburg. The young girls and the older woman shared the stories of how their loved one came to rest where they were. One, an officer and a surgeon, the other an enlisted man, leaving the family farm to do his duty.

The ladies decided that they would meet a year from that date and honor the memory of their family members. As the year wore on they shared their story with other townspeople who shared it with yet other townspeople. On the appointed day a year later as the women went to the cemetery, they found the entire town of Boalsburg had shown up and flowers were strewn on every single grave.

I don't think it really matters where the tradition of placing flowers on the graves began and I don't think it matters that what was once called Decoration Day is now called Memorial Day. I think what matters is the fact that we have lost touch with its importance.

It's fine to have a cookout if the weather allows. It's perfectly okay to go to the beach or plant your garden. It is a long weekend and the first one after a long, hard winter, so it should be enjoyed. But, I ask you to take a little time out of your holiday festivities to go to a parade if it is possible. Go to the cemetery if you can and place a flower on the grave of a family member, even if you don't know who they are because they died long ago. And if you can't get away, if there are no parades in your area, if the cemetery is not a place you can get to for whatever reason, you can take a few moments on Monday to remember someone you love that is now gone. You can take a few moments out of your busy schedule to say a silent prayer or have a positive thought for the soldiers we have lost and the ones who are still in harms way.

You may be someone who feels that we are in the middle of a just war or you may, like myself, feel that this country had no valid reason to be in Iraq. It really doesn't matter, as long as we all feel that we should honor our fallen heroes and hope/pray that there will be very few more to fall.

I know that this is supposed to be a humor column and most of the time it is, but the way I see it, some things are not very funny, but they are still worth writing about. Thank you for reading and have a wonderful Memorial Day weekend.

song by all, "Battle Hymn of the Republic"; closing song, "God Bless America." Refreshments were served after the meeting. A Mock Hee Haw Show will be held on Friday, May 28, at 7 p.m. at the Grange Hall. The next meeting is June 7 for election of officers and Memorial program.

Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet on June 3 at the Colonial Restaurant, Bridgton, for dinner out.

The Universalist Church of Bryant Pond will hold 9 a.m. services for the month of June. Anyone interested in attending is cordially welcome. More dates in next week's paper.

The Baptist Church has voted to call Lawrence Hodgkins as new pastor.

Beth Hoover is busy getting her new shop open, where the former toy store was in Market Square, South Paris. On one side will be all for a dollar and the other side is Beth's Boutique with discount clothing. She hopes to be open by June 1.

Kellie Record and Carol Hall will be having a Garage Sale at Richard's on Curtis Hill Road, South Woodstock, on June 18. There is a big variety of household and other items.

Kudos to Emma Davis for making the honor roll at CPS this term.

My cat, Billy, is still sick and getting worse as I write this. He's not in pain, but very weak, we watch him carefully.

Minna Morgan stopped by and visited for awhile. She left the money that was left over after the Willing Workers disbanded. With the money, we are getting some bushes and flowers to be placed in front of the Woodstock sign here at Andrews Corner. We're hoping to do this just as soon as the frost is past. Thanks to Frank Frazer and Richard Wing for doing all the work in the area where the flowers will be placed.

Our flowering crab apple tree is beautiful right now. The blossoms only last a few days, especially if it rains or the wind blows the blossoms away. I still enjoy it while it lasts.

I ran into Mary Stuart Hadley at Wal-Mart one day this past week. She is here from her home in Florida for a while. I was pleased to see her.

I took three large bags of curtains and other items to the Salvation Army store in Lewiston. The building is right beside where I go for doctors appointments, so it is very handy.

I visited with my sister, Evelyn Dunn, on her birthday, May 19, at her home in Norway. Tommy Poland also came at the same time and brought her a loaf of dill bread. We visited for quite a while. The Dunn's daughter, Patrice, is visiting from California for a week or so.

Deven Benson and family have moved into their new home here on Curtis Hill Road this past week. We welcome them to the hill. Frank Frazer and Richard went up one day and helped Deven get the water hooked up in the house and other things.

Quote of the week: "I've learned that there is no fun to watch television unless you have the remote control."

Hi everybody. If you like fish chowder or corn chowder for a light lunch on a Friday, the place to be is at Melby's at North Waterford. They even give you a nice big slice of home-made bread. As Mr. Food says, it's sooo good.

Sharon and Howard Bertram from Arlington, Mass., were at their cottage this past weekend at Keewaydin Lake. They had a late Sunday dinner with us before heading back to the city.

I think there were only four Stoneham people in Stoneham Church Sunday. Come on, people. I wouldn't like to live in a town without a church, would you? We don't have a school here in town anymore. We are lucky to have a store and restaurant here. Let's make it a good community and give support and attendance where needed.

Eddie Millett gave us two real nice trout one day last week. They were good. Thanks, Ed.

The Republican Committee met last Monday night and made plans for a yard sale to be held Saturday, June 5, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. If you have any items that you would like to donate, please contact me at 928-3096, or Becky Adams at 928-2443. Funds raised from this sale will go toward county and state dues as well as sponsorships to future Republican conventions. Any items not sold will go back to donors or go to the Church Thrift Sale here in town. By the way, the Stoneham Church Thrift Shop and Bake sales will be starting on June 5, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thanks for any donations there and/or time to help.

There will be a public supper 5 to 6:30 p.m. at North Waterford on June 12. This is for campership for bids to go to camp.

The Friendly Senior Citizens will be meeting at North Waterford Church vestry on June 2 with a potluck lunch, with meeting at 11:30 a.m.

Another thing, people, don't forget to go and vote on June 8. We'll see you there.

Wednesday, May 19, nine members of Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19, DUV, met at the K of P Hall here in Stoneham. Gail Butterfield opened the meeting at 7:30 p.m. Frances Grant served as senior vice president and Eleanor Nelson served as junior vice president. Plans were finalized for the supper for the Oxford County Republicans on June 15. Secretary and treasurer's reports were given and accepted as read. Department Convention is June 24-25. A memorial service was done for deceased members of the tent.

Marilyn Jones accompanied Dayle and Deanna Merchant and Jennifer Carlin to Waterville recently where Deanna competed at the 2004 YMCA N.E. Regional Gymnastics championships. There were 40 teams from seven Northeast states. Deanna's scores were: vault, 8.95; bars, 7.30; beam, 8.5; floor, 8.4 and all around score, 32.7. This was held at the Alford Youth Center.

Margaret Stevens, Sylvia Jones and Marilyn Jones went to Mount Desert Island Saturday to attend the "Celebration of Life Service" for James Farley, who passed away March 27 at their winter home in Zephyrhills, Fla. Mrs. Farley (Cathy) has been visiting friends in this area for the past 51 years. The service was held at The Head of the Harbor Church in Tremont.

On May 30 Stoneham Rescue will have its annual public breakfast, 7 to 10 a.m. It's a good cause. See you there.

The Bethel Board of Selectmen will be holding a Public Hearing on Monday, June 7, 2004 in the Selectmen's Meeting Room at the Town Office. The public hearing will be held to receive public comment on two warrant articles placed on the Annual Town Meeting Warrant being presented to voters on June 9.

The first article concerns possible enactment of an amendment to the Site Plan Review Ordinance which, if enacted, would redefine the process for appealing Planning Board decisions to the Board of Appeals.

The second article concerns possible enactment of an ordinance entitled "Ordinance for the Recall of Elected Municipal Officials" This article is a citizen initiated petition article.

If you are unable to attend the meeting but wish to make comment, please forward these comments in writing to the Bethel Town Office 19 Main St. P.O. Box 1660 Bethel, ME.

Except Mona. She is busy putting geraniums on graves of all the departed members of the Mundt-Allen Post Ladies Auxiliary, in the rain, no less.

Last Tuesday evening found us in Augusta for a CAP work session. Wednesday evening we went to Rumford to visit the CAP squadron at the legion post there. Thursday, we loaded our camper and headed for Princeton Airport, near Calais, about 255 miles from home; we performed an inspection of the CAP squadron located there. Then we headed back to a campground near Bangor. Friday, we drove to Greenville to be in position for a training exercise evaluation scheduled for Saturday, setting our camper up behind a hangar at the Greenville airport.

Friday evening, other CAP staff members en route to Greenville from Bangor and Waterville received notice from the Air Force Rescue Coordination Center that an emergency locator transponder (ELT) was detected emanating from an area about 20 miles south of Bangor. A CAP aircraft launched from Bangor, and a ground crew in our communications van headed for the ELT signal. After about two hours of searching, they located the offending ELT in a crop dusting helicopter parked in the middle of a blueberry field. The "chopper" had a mechanical problem and also a malfunctioning ELT, which the aircraft owner dutifully turned off. One mission accomplished.

This "actual" mission set back the setup and planning for our exercise mission by several hours but served to notify the Air Force evaluators that Maine Wing could handle the job. The only "fly in the ointment" was a minor scrape involving one of our volunteers in his small camper. In moving his camper around the hangar to make room for the communications van, he cut the corner a little short, breaking the open window in his van and leaving a large dent in the metal corner trim on the brand new hangar. Later, we learned that this guy is a retired preacher, explaining a lot of things.

Preparations are well underway for Mona's granddaughter, Monica and husband Matt's new home. The foundation and basement concrete walls are in place and the grading around the place is to commence as soon as the monsoon eases enough that equipment can negotiate the quagmire on the site. As of this week Tuesday, an excavator is sitting in the driveway. Of course, Snuffy is interested in all this activity, and he has been pretty good about staying away most of the time.

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb
There will be no service at the West Paris Universalist Church on May 30, for half of the congregation will be camping at Cathedral Pines in Eustis. A special service will be held on June 6 at 9 a.m. It will be a "Service of Memory." Members and friends are asked to share memories of loved ones, former ministers, or someone that has made a difference in the community or in their lives. Jeanne Lamb Whittemore will be guest soloist. James Burke is organist. A coffee hour follows.

For Old Home Days in town the Universalist Church will be making their fried dough as in previous years.

Cynthia and Sayward Lamb, Richard and Ethelyn Turner of South Paris and I visited cemeteries in West Sumner, Buckfield, and West Minot to decorate graves of relatives. This is an annual trip for the three sisters and their husbands. All cemeteries were cleaned and mowed. About six years ago all stones in the West Sumner cemetery had been cleaned. At West Minot the stones were cleaned last year. It is nice to remember our ancestors and to see that some towns mow and clean their cemetery stones out of respect for their past citizens. A different flag was on some of the graves. They were to honor those that had been firefighters. As in the past, the veterans' graves were marked with new American flags. We completed the day's tour by enjoying lunch in Oxford.

Jim Lamb is recovering at home from surgery on his foot. He is to keep off it, but it will take a lot of persistence for him to be quiet and stay out of his office.

Nicolas Hartley of Auburn celebrated his third birthday with a party at his home given by his parents, Cameron and Kelly Hartley. Great-grandmothers Florence McLaughlin and I attended along with a gathering from both sides of the family. Luncheon was served with a dinosaur cake made by his mother.

Beryl Bonney and I were in Auburn last week for groceries. I could help her instead of her reaching up for my goods. We always enjoy eating out and went to Arbys for roast beef.

Buffy has been so bothered with wood ticks that I put his flea medication on the back of his neck to see if that would work on other pesky bugs. The last two days they have only been on the surface of his fur. Hopefully it will work.

Andover

by Joan Stinson-Carney
There will be a Memorial Day Service beginning at 9 a.m. on the Town Common. Thanks to the Knights of Pythias for taking care of this event.

The East Andover Community Club wants to make sure that everybody knows that they will only be selling sandwiches during the Saturday Birthday event. You should bring your own lawn chairs and anything else you might want for your picnic.

Andrea Savitz, president of the Andover Service Circle, tells me that the ASC Community Clean-up is scheduled for Saturday, June 5. The clean-up will start at 8:30 a.m. in front of the Town Hall. Rubber gloves and plastic bags will be provided to participants along with a suggested area assignment. It is strongly advised that all volunteers wear some hunter orange. At 11 a.m., after dropping off the collected trash at the Transfer Station, refreshments will be served at the Town Hall.

On Sunday, June 20, the Bicentennial Weekend, the ASC will be hosting a breakfast between 7 and 9 a.m. at the CEB of the Andover Congregational Church. The menu will consist of pancakes, sausage, milk, juice and coffee. Price: $4 for adults and $2 for children under 12. I promise that this is the last time this "happening" will appear in this column.

Now to correct a mistake — the baby boy welcomed recently by a quilt was Michael James Farrington — forgot the Farrington part.

For all East Andover residents who are ready to secede from the town of Andover, please wait. Flags have been ordered by Road Commissioner Marshall Meisner and will appear as soon as possible. Thanks, Marshall.

Lorena Simmons visited with granddaughter Megan and great-grandson Ethan last weekend in Massachusetts. Let her tell you about the sleeping bag experience.

If you haven't bought your tickets for the Andover Alumni Banquet yet, you had better hurry, the banquet is this Saturday. This year marks the 45th anniversary of my high school graduation. I plan to spend the day in bed, with a good book, "Lady Godiva," chocolates, a gallon of something alcoholic, and plenty of tissues. Where did the time go? See ya.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

The Hanover Selectboard met for their monthly meeting on Monday, May 17.

The board discussed the possibility of combining the Special Town Meeting for the school budget with the annual Town Meeting and possibly having it in August or early fall. The school budget is usually voted on in June and recently the annual Town Meeting has been in November or December. The board also discussed repairs to town property and the Neighborhood Watch program.

A survey crew has been seen working their way up the Howard Pond Road. They are from Main-Land of Livermore Falls, and they are preparing recommendations for repairs to Hanover's road system.

Herb Kittredge is reported as feeling better but he remains a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway until he gets back on his feet.

Samuel T. Brown III was rummaging around on the top of Mount Dimmock recently when he found a hedgehog. A face full of quills was the result. Hedgehogs seem to be numerous and quite active this year.

Jim Ray flew back to Austin on June 18. Claudia Nardoni from Virginia was been in the area over the last weekend.

Bob Fortin reports that the Tri-Town area is doing very good in the recycling department. The amount and quality of materials brought in are improving.

The cemetery was cleaned up and finished just before the rain started on the 22nd.

Jack and Lucy Nordahl returned on May 17 from a two-month trip to Sanibel Island off Fort Myers, Fla. Their daughter and her children and their son and his wife all came to visit. They took a week's drive down, to hit all the high points, and the same coming back with overnights in state parks. They had a very good trip, but Lucy was glad to be back.

Elise and Peter Seames of Greenwood had an enjoyable supper with Diane Howe and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Andre Cote of Manchester, N.H., visited Arlene Harrington on May 23. Jennifer Merrill of Andover visited Arlene Harrington on May 23.

Carl and Dori Hallman and daughter, Whitney, visited Arlene Harrington on May 23.

I do hope our weather will improve this coming week. Have a nice week. God Bless the Troops.

Albany

by Dana & Sheila Dyke

Greetings and hello from Albany. We hope that everyone is finding a way to enjoy the days, despite the seemingly non-stop rain. Yes, we need the rain, but, did we really need that thunder-boomer Monday morning?

Jeff and Sue Barton recently celebrated their wedding anniversary. So, congrats to them.

This Friday is hymn sing over at the Pinhook Meeting-house in Bryant Pond. Many from Albany go to this and it's a lot of fun. It starts at 7 p.m. and usually you sing for an hour or so, and then have fellowship afterward.

Next Saturday, June 5, the CMA Ride Against Hunger to benefit the Good Shepherd Food Bank takes place in Auburn. We will be meeting behind the Auburn Mall (old Porteous building) at 10 a.m., and lining up to begin our ride to the GSFB building (the new one).

They are asking that each rider donate $10, and gather any sponsors possible. Every $1 collected actually is like getting $12. Just think: for every $10 collected just from the riders themselves, it's like giving $120. The Food Bank feeds over 65,000 people a month through its network of 491 shelters, soup kitchens, and food pantries in every county in the State of Maine. If you wish to sponsor or donate to the Food Bank, please contact either of us or Pam and Carlton Rugg.

If you wish to join in the ride, just meet us at the Auburn Mall at 10 a.m. on Saturday, June 5. All riders are welcome.

We pray that everyone has a wonderful Memorial Day weekend, and safe travels.

God Bless and Keep.

by Bertha DeHaas

Congratulations go out this week to Miss Lindsay Newell, daughter of Elaine and David Newell of Pioneer Street, West Paris. Lindsay, who is a student at University of Southern Maine, has been accepted for an internship in public relations at Walt Disney World in Florida. She will be working, living and attending classes at Disney World for seven months. Lindsay then returns to Maine in January 2005 to resume classes at USM. Again, we all give you our heartfelt congratulations and wish you good luck, Lindsay.

PLENTY OF REASON TO JUMP FOR JOY
Both the softball and baseball teams at Telstar High School have enjoyed good success on the diamond this season. Above left, softball pitcher Jillian Kimball fires in a pitch in a game last week against Mt. Abram. Above, baseball catcher Travis Brooks applies a tag to a Mt. Abram runner. Telstar won both games. At left, jumping Rebels Ryan Savage and Adam Largess celebrate a win in a game earlier this month against Winthrop. (For recent scores, see page 9.)

REILLY M. REYNOLDS

Our family is mourning the loss of our beloved husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather. Reilly died on April 23, 2004 after a brief illness. Up to that time he was still working as a general contractor after coming to Santa Clara Valley, Calif., in 1959.

He was an inspiration to everyone who knew him. His many friends and his family will miss his giving spirit, and sense of humor.

Reilly is survived by his beloved wife, Martha (Marty), who was his best friend and companion for over 36 years. His loving daughter, Sandra Kruckenberg and her husband Victor, and their children Larry Kruckenberg, and his children, James, Stephanie and Jennifer. Also their daughter, Lorai Harlan and her husband Wayne and their children, Nicholas, Sandra and Christine, and their sons, Victor Reilly, Brian James, and Griff Hunter.

He will be remembered for many things, but above all, his love and devotion to his family.

Reilly had been in Santa Clara Valley since 1959 and will be remembered for thousands of structures that his corporations built and developed throughout the area. To name a few: the Garden of Eden Apartment complex on Eden Avenue, Reynolds Circle Industrial Complex, several thousand homes, condominiums, and many strip malls.

Card of Thanks

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who was involved in my receiving the special award at the Bethel Area Chamber dinner on May 14, 2004. A special thank you to Ginny Walker for nominating me. I felt that it was for all people that helped over the years to make this possible from my husband who has always been willing to help pay for whatever we needed to employees who helped in so many ways and Judy Lamontagne who has helped put things in order. It was a special night for me and anyone who has helped with this project over the 27 years (24 years here in Bethel).

Christmas for Families is a project I believe in and I am always pleased at the number of people who feel the same. It is hard enough on people most of the year but at Christmas time it is even harder. Christmas for Families is here to help those who can use something more to make it more joyful and thankful.

Nina L. Wheeler,
Coordinator
Christmas for Families

Reilly was a long-time Shriner, and physical fitness enthusiast, starting to work out in the barn on his family's fox and mink ranch in Sunday River, where he was born.

Reilly was a member of Bal-y's Gym where the morning crew will remember him for his warmth (hugs, kisses and hand shake) and his jokes and caterpillar eyebrows. He will remain in our hearts forever.

At Reilly's request, there was no formal service. In lieu of flowers, please make a donation to your favorite cause in his name.

SHERRY ROSE

Sheryl Ann (Settele) Rose, 40, of North Road, Bethel, died peacefully at home on May 24, 2004, after a courageous battle with cancer.

Sherry was born on Aug. 8, 1963 in Framingham, Mass., to Jeanette (Tessier) Settele and David Settele. Her childhood was spent in different locations, with her favorite being Francetown/Petersborough, N.H., where she attended the ConVal Regional School District and was involved in many social, sports and student activities during that time.

Card of Thanks

A special thank you to the Gilead Fire Department and to all those who volunteered their time for the wonderful luncheon given in memory of Edna Dupont.

She graduated from high school in Simsbury, Conn., in 1981 and attended the University of Connecticut where she received a BSN in nursing in 1985.

She worked in various healthcare settings including as a psychiatric nurse at the Boston VA in Brookline, Mass., and most recently for Androscoggin Home Care and Hospice in Lewiston. While at AHCH, Sherry worked as both a field nurse and in the main office with quality assurance.

She was married to James A. Rose on Jan. 5, 1990, and they moved to Bethel in May of 1991, where they have been ever since and are members of the West Parish Congregational Church.

Her passions were her son, gatherings of family and good friends, books, creative art, nature, her pets, family camps in Canada and Rangeley, and her spirit. Sherry was blessed with a highly contagious personality coupled with a very deep sense of compassion and empathy. Her ability to lighten the mood at a moment's notice and her sincere caring for others will be fondly remembered by all she touched.

A celebration of Sherry's life will be held at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel on Saturday, June 26, at 11 a.m. Donations may be made to the Hospice House project at Androscoggin Home Care and Hospice in Sherry's honor. Please make checks payable to: The Hospice House/AHCH, and on the memo line include Sherry's name. Mail to AHCH, PO Box 819, Lewiston, ME 04243.
